

Coming This Black Friday!

On Black Friday, Author Heath D. Alberts, winner of the Books In Sync Visitor's Choice Award, will be on hand to do a book signing & meet and greet at the Bookworm Bakery & Café in Rockford from 3:00 AM - 12:00 PM! Stop in, sample the truly amazing selection of coffee and goodies, buy a book - and get it signed. Or just stop in to meet the author and say hello!

Copies are $14.00, and 25% of all profits will go to benefit The Salvation Army of Rockford.

Open donations will also be accepted on their behalf. So what's not to love?

From the solitary confines of a forgotten Arctic outpost arrives the world's final hope for its own salvation. What follows is an unlikely string of events that brings together a diverse group of players in the culmination of what may very well be the last days of the world as we know it.

With the impending apocalypse upon humanity as a whole, it is up to the efforts of one unknowing woman to save us all from what is potentially to come and, moreover, ourselves.

Beings that have long lain dormant and shrouded in secrecy have now awakened and are walking the Earth once more; many are duplicitous; a handful are neutral; and only one is bent on helping her.

The world may have been offered its final opportunity for salvation, but in the end the ultimate question is: Do we truly deserve it?

"This is a book that will keep you on the edge of your seat, following the mystery down its many paths until all come together inexorably at the final goal."
